

There are two types of beaches. One is an outdoor beach and one is an indoor beach.

There are many more indoor beaches though because they are much warmer, so much more comfortable and charming. It is very safe and there are no dangerous or pesky animals for example seagulls, sharks, octopus, shell and the best of all bluebottles.

Because it's warm all you have to wear is casual short sleeved clothes and shorts. It's always warm because the sun producers can turn the faint radiance of the sun into glowing sunlight.

The sun is important for multiple reasons. ONE, it gives light. TWO, it keeps us warm. THREE, it powers electricity for our wave generators and ice melters.

The wave generators create waves that get blown to shore by a cool breeze, unlike the heavy gales outside where the wind is able to freeze water. The wind is caused by heavy gales going through fly screens and breeze creating machines.

saturn's amazing WILDLIFE

Before arriving on the planet, you'll want to learn more about who you will be bumping into!

LERANUC: Saturn's main inhabitants are called 'Leranuc'. The plural is 'Lerani'. Their scientific name is 'Mammalic Clafurus'. Lerani have lots of fur all around their body to protect them from the -292 degree temperature of Saturn. The tail is wrapped around by a very strong fabric so when the winds exceed 820 km/h then the strong fabric wraps around the Leranuc. The fabric then becomes 20x denser and prevents the Leranuc from blowing away.

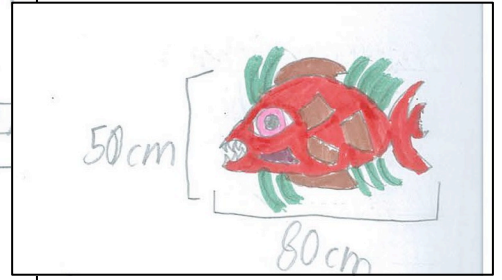

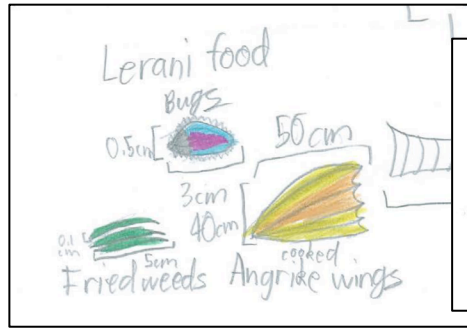

On their feet, Lerani have very strong claws to attach to the icy surface when they want to move in high winds. This creature is a mammal, meaning it is warm-blooded. They have adapted to become mammals because they needed to retain all the health they can absorb.

Lerani are very social because they need to keep warm within each other. They are very talkative and talk about every subject they can think of. They eat bugs which are their normal food and everything else in restaurants.

Lerani have two genders, male and female, just like us. They do reproduce, and women spend 1 Saturn year in pregnancy before giving birth. Instead of giving birth in hospitals, they build a burrow inside their home, go in and give birth.

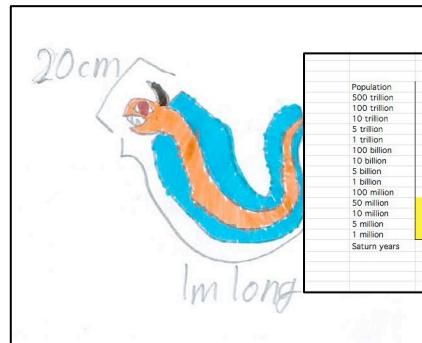

Lerani are omnivores (eating meat and plants) and look for food in the wild. They also can buy food from every shop with food but it isn't as good. Most Lerani get food from shops.

They eat bugs which are their normal food, fried weeds which are junk food and Angrike wings which are usually served at feasts and big meals. Sam

RINGERS

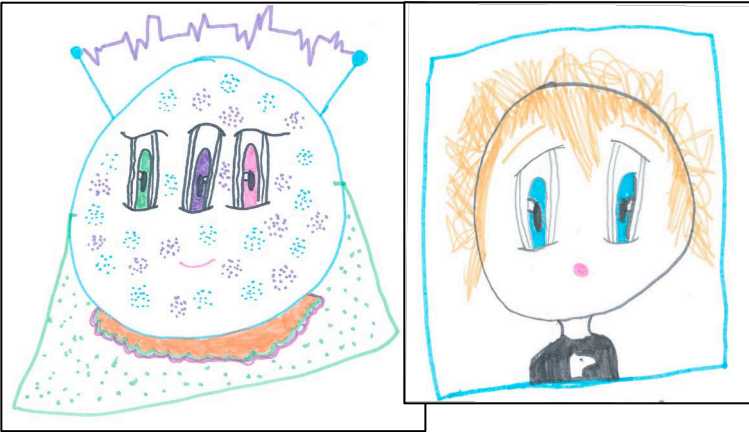

Saturn's pets are called 'Ringers'. Their scientific name is 'Reptilia Terrahornus'. They are usually a bit aggressive but they make great pets and protectors. Their food is Saturn ice.

PARAFINS

Saturn's sea inhabitants are called 'Parafins'. The scientific name is 'Reptilius Aquasapien'. They are very friendly and are actually mutated Earth fish. They eat Saturn sea plants and sea rocks.

Hello, I'm Amina the Queen of Saturn. In this book you will learn all about my planet. I hope one day you will come and visit everything! If you plan to live on Saturn there are schools as well. I really want to go to Earth so I can learn about all the wonders of your planet. I hope you have a lovely time learning about our language, tribes, alphabet, attractions, sports and the amazing history of our planet. I'll see you in Saturn! Bye!

To find the earth rejects petting zoo turn left at Flibberish Lane. You'll see a building that is made out of glass crystals. You will see a sign on top of the building that says, CHO CHO, but in English that means earth rejects petting zoo.

You need to pay 3 hot coals to get in because in Saturn they are very special. They put the coals in the fire. You have to be an Earthling or a Saturnite to enter. The crystal glass is blue. It is very small on the outside but huge on the inside.

rooms. The door to the room is the Earthling's favourite colour. They put the Earthlings name on the door and in a little bag they put their favourite food so you can feed them. Here is a short description of our main attractions:

THE TALKATIVE TALKER!

Aka: Rowan Sullivan

Door colour: Red

Favourite food: lasagne

Description: Blonde messy hair, blue eyes, no freckles, very small, funny smile, wearing a dragon top and jeans always talking.

Family: Ella (ME), Ava, Paul Sullivan, Heather Laurie.

Why he was rejected from earth: No one would want him he's always talking. Not even the local orphanage wanted him. They sent him away immediately. "Go away, go away!" they screamed. I don't blame them. He keeps you up all night and guess what? He even snores! Now you see why no one would want the talkative talker.

THE BLONDE BARON

AKA Ava Lilly Sullivan

Door colour: Blue

Favourite food: Spaghetti bolognaise

Description: Blonde, curly hair, freckles, smiling wickedly, wearing a purple puppy top and shorts. Medium size and she's always laughing diabolically.

Family: Ella (ME), Rowan, Heather Laurie, Paul Sullivan

Why she was rejected from Earth: Ava Lilly Sullivan is always being weird and saying she is smart, when she is but she is not so smart that she can say it over and over again. She's always asking me to be her best friend and then asking someone else. Now you can see why no one would want the blonde baron!

THE CRAZY KOOK

AKA Colin with no last name

Door Colour: Orange

Favourite Food: Chips

Family: Unknown

Description: Flaming blue sunglasses, school uniform, his hair is very neat and brown, freckles, missing tooth, buck teeth, never smiling, talks with a very strange accent and is very factually correct and is as tall as a year-one kid.

Why he was rejected from Earth: He is always picky and follows you around asking awkward questions like, "Why do you have so many freckles?" and "Why do you have wet hair?" He will only ever join in your games if they are about maths or English. Now you see why no one would want the crazy kook.

THE TOO FAT BOY

AKA Jason Yeung Door

Colour: Black Favourite

Food: Dumplings Family:

Unknown

Description: Black hair, brown skin, black eyes, fat, wearing clothes that are much too small for him, short, flat nose, no freckles, big feet and always eating and talking about food. He is never moving at all. Why he was rejected from Earth: He is much too fat. He bumps into everyone on the street and he has to SQUEEZE through the door. No one ever touches him because he is the smelliest, no matter how much he showers. He talks so boringly about where to find the best Chinese food, pizza and lollies, as well as lots more food. No one in a hundred miles on Earth would want the too fat boy.

LACH CO CHA

AKA Steve

Hi, I'm Lach Co Cha or in English, Steve. I own the earth rejects petting zoo so the people of this planet (Saturnites) can learn more about how earthlings can be even more strange and evil than us. Not that we're evil, but some of us can be. Anyway, I like my job because I can learn English and I love to hear people laughing at how silly some of them look. The only bad thing is that I feel bad when the Earthling's families come to visit because they are always crying and shouting at me. I earn 60 hot coals per week and I give one to each of the 50 rejects so they don't die in the night from freezing. Some of the food I have to feed them is disgusting like lasagne. I just learnt how to say that in English. I kept calling it La La Na. That's all now. To find my petting zoo, turn left at Flibberish Lane. See you soon!

CO CHA LACH CO

(Richard)

Hi, I'm Co Cha Lach Co, or in English, Richard. I'm Steve's twin brother. We are exactly alike except I HATE being a zoo-keeper. Families always come and cry about how they never should have rejected them and then the rejects cry too, and that makes me want to cry. The truth is, I wanted to be an Orangeologist. That's when you study the wonders of oranges. My Mum said I had to help Steve at his job because he is too crazy to do anything sensible like listen to me. So, if you come to our zoo, please FREE ME! Bye, Richard.

ART?

Art is a beautiful thing. You can record art or take photos at mars.

At mars they have photos that talk to you and move.

Art at mars is very interesting. The art is unbreakable. If you do break alien art you will go to Mars jail. I would see an alien's portrait.
